WSGALT RECEIVES GRANT FROM GEORGE B. STORER FOUNDATION FOR WORK IN NORTH PLATTE VALLEY...

This January, WSGALT received a generous financial gift from the Storer Foundation to focus a portion of our efforts in the North Platte Valley in southern Wyoming. While our organization has already done some great conservation work in the area, this grant will allow us to implement a community-based outreach program and potentially develop agricultural land protection projects at a larger scale. Working with our Carbon County Steering Committee members and others, we hope to reach landowners and townspeople interested in joining our efforts to conserve and protect the agricultural land base and cultural heritage of this productive, diverse and incredibly scenic landscape. A portion of the grant will also go toward the acquisition and development of GIS capabilities for WSGALT. Having the ability to create and produce maps will greatly enable our efforts to steward our existing conservation easements and strategically focus future efforts, both in the North Platte Valley, and statewide.
